

LAND, COMMUNITY AND HOMES: FUTURE 'SOCIAL' HOUSING DEBATE

How self-commissioned housing could make Scotland better and more sociable
From Cohousing to Buildgroups, what's happening and how they work

Thursday 12 May 6pm
The Old Lab, Summerhall
Edinburgh EH9 1PL

A relaxed discussion looking at how shared places to live can be made and run by the people who live there

With presentations on current projects by the people making them happen already.

Join us over a drink to find how it can work, if it is for you, and meet those doing it.

Speakers include:

Diarmaid Lawlor Architecture and Design Scotland

Maria Brenton OWCH Cohousing London

Anne MacInnes Penington Cohousing, Glasgow

Advance tickets from: www.foa2016.com and search for 'SEDA'
Admission £5 / £3 concessions, also available on the door
Part of 2016 Festival of Architecture, SEDA Festival of Greendrinks
More details: www.seda.uk.net under 'Events'

Festival of Architecture
2016

Photographs: David Seel, PTE Architects